

This image shows a vertical strip of a document, likely a book or a bound manuscript. The left side of the strip is dominated by a dark, heavily textured vertical band, which appears to be the inner hinge or binding of the book. This band has a mottled, almost black appearance with some lighter speckles. To the right of this dark band is a much lighter, off-white or light gray area. This lighter area is mostly blank but shows signs of wear, including faint vertical lines and small dark spots, possibly from dust or the aging of the paper. The overall image has a high-contrast, grainy quality, characteristic of a scanned document edge.

Golden Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Hammond of Paris Hill reached the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Aug. 8, 1877. It had been planned to observe the event by a family gathering Monday evening, but for the convenience of some of the guests included the immediate family and other near relatives of whom there are a considerable number in this vicinity.

Paris Hill
Mr. and Mrs. Hammond are members of two of the old families of Paris and Mr. Hammond was the son of Jarius K. and Eliza (Hooper) Hammond. Mrs. Hammond was the daughter of James Hammond and Mary (Stone) Jackson. Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond are living. Mary E. wife of Ernest F. Shaw of South Paris, J. Eugene Hammond of Norway, Faustina E. wife of Bert Cole of Paris Hill and Roy H. Hammond of Pittsburgh, Penna. One other son, Keith, died when a child and two grandchildren, Raymond and Elsie Shaw of South Paris. A picnic dinner was eaten on the piazza graced with a wedding cake made for the occasion by Mrs. William King. The figures 1877-1927, also two other decorated cakes. An original poem was read by Mrs. Sabina Jackson of South Paris which was very fine. The children were all present excepting Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Hammond of Pittsburgh, Penna. They were unable to come, but joined in the gifts and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond received a number of gold pieces, a quantity of flowers, a basket of fruit and other remembrances of the occasion. Two bouquets worthy of mention were from the Sunshine Club and 50 beautiful hothouse pinks from Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hooper. There were many beautiful remembrances and many callers which reminded them that they had many friends.

After marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond came here to the Hammond home which was given to them by the father, Jarius Hammond, where they have lived 30 years and raised to manhood and womanhood their 4 children, having very little vacation from work.

Guests for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. P. Hammond, Mrs. William Hooper, Mrs. Sabina Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shaw, J. Eugene Hammond, Mrs. Faustina Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews and sons, Stanley and Lenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Curtis and children, Ralph and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scribner, Miss Eva Jackson. Mrs. Hammond has only two brothers living out of 6, the oldest and youngest, the oldest living in Creswell, Oregon and Mrs. Thomas F. Jackson not able to take a long trip and Fred Jackson of Auburn. They were expected but were not present.

Aug. 25 at Paris Hill will be held the combined Community Club and Country Club fair. This will be the feature fair. You will see things not found in other fairs. You'll see the "Fest City" on the common. You'll see and hear Melville Dunham on his old fiddle and perhaps for the first and last time you'll take a ride around the square in a real old-time Tally-Ho coach driven by a real old-time driver, and many more things not announced.

I feel like the little child: "Rain, rain, go away." So we can get our hayning done.

Dr. and Mrs. Aldrich went to Portland last week to see Rose Giles and sister, Elizabeth Hall; found them both very poorly but a little better than when they last saw them.

It is expected that the water from the new artesian well more than two hundred feet deep by the Paris Hill Water Co., may be turned into the mains this week.

SOUTH ALBANY

Lebroke Barn Burned
During the thunder shower, Friday forenoon, lightning struck Ezra Lebroke's barn and it was burned. Mrs. Lebroke was in the house when the flash came and did not realize that the barn was hit. The wagon was in the yard and she went out to put it in the barn, as it was raining hard. When she reached the door, she saw the fire inside. The horse was tied in the farther end of the barn. With her usual coolness and bravery, Mrs. Lebroke rushed through the burning barn and succeeded in quieting the animal sufficiently to lead her out of the reach of the flames and into the pasture to safety. The fire alarm was rung and in a few minutes short time twenty-four auto loads of people were there and with their help the house which was only a few rods from the barn, was saved. The wind blew the flames directly toward the house, but water was taken from the well near and many hands carried it to the roof, where many men stood in the intense heat and fought the burning fire brands until the barn was down and all danger to the house was over. Mr. Lebroke was in the field when the house was burning and he rushed into a closed car and driven out of danger. Mr. Lebroke will not be rebuilt, but will move to some other place as soon as he can make arrangements.

Howard Millett of Waterford has come to help his grandfather, Merritt Savin, in his haying. He has his black horses to work for Mr. Savin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Worden of Wisconsin are visiting her father, David McAllister. They made the trip in their coupe, starting from Wisconsin, Friday morning, at 4 o'clock, and reached here Monday morning at 2 o'clock, finishing a journey of 975 miles without making many stops.

Mrs. E. C. Henley, who submitted to a serious operation at the M. G. Hospital at Portland, Saturday morning, is getting on well and her friends here are hoping she will make a rapid recovery.

Elmer Ingalls of West Paris, who bought Merritt Savin's oxen some weeks ago, came for them last week, Wednesday. He is to exhibit them at the fairs this season.

Friday morning, as so many cars were rushing to the fair, Herman Holt's beautiful collie, "Bonnie," was accidentally run over and so seriously injured that she died in a short time.

WATERFORD

Camp Kokosing
On Monday, August 8th, Camp Kokosing visited Kokosing for a return challenge of the Water Meet. Both camps gave most creditable performances in swimming, diving and canoeing, with a total score of 70-37, in favor of Kokosing.

After a picnic supper a play, "Snow White and Rose Red" was given by the junior campers of Kokosing. General dancing followed. This is the third time this season for Kokosing to compete with neighboring camps in Water Sports and holds the record of winning score for each occasion. On Tuesday, a treasure hunt was greatly enjoyed. The last clues were hidden several feet under the surface of the lake, and the treasures were watermelons.

A Benefit Pageant and Exhibition of Water Sports will be given in Kokosing Pine Grove and on Kokosing Beach on Saturday, the thirteenth. Among the recent visitors at camp are: Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Jockell of Pelham, N. Y.; Fred S. Tison, Mr. and Mrs. Reeb of Westfield, N. Y.; Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Ulaiver of New Rochelle, N. Y.; the Misses Mignerey of Danbury, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. John S. DAVID BRINGS THE ARK TO JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—II Sam 6:1-19, Ps 134
GOLDEN TEXT—We shall be like the Israelites when we have the goodness of the Lord even of thy holy temple.

PRIMARY TOPIC—David Worships

God.

1C—Holding PEOPLE AND ADULTS TOGETHER
1C—Exalting God in Individual and National Life.

1. David Made King.
1. Over Judah (II Sam. 2:1-19).
Upon the death of Saul and Jonathan, David knew that the time had come for the fulfillment of God's purpose, but he carefully inquired of the Lord as to the proper movement to make. God directed him to Hebron, whereupon the children of Judah anointed him to be their king (II Sam. 2:19-33).
2. Over Israel (II Sam. 5:1-25).
After the death of Ishbosheth, the children of Israel came and sought to league with David, anointing him as their king. They assailed as their reasons:
(1) He was their brother (v. 1).
This is true of Jesus Christ, who has become our kinsman through the incarnation.
(2) He was their leader in war even in Saul's time (v. 2).
(3) He was the Lord's choice (v. 3).

2. David's Unsuccessful Attempts to Bring up the Ark (vv. 1-5).
This is an example of a wrong way of doing a right thing. That the Ark of the Lord of Hosts, the symbol of God's presence, should be brought to the center of the nation's life was a decision worthy of all praise. But, gathered together the representatives

That David was sincere in this means hasty and inconsiderate, for the procedure was an express violation of God's statutes. The dictum that it matters little what you do, just so you are honest and sincere is one of the devil's blackest lies.

III. God Vindicates His Law and Holiness (vv. 6-9).

The people were very joyful as they moved on toward Jerusalem with the ark, but suddenly there was a stop to the jubilant voices and music. As if some rough place in the road the oxen stumbled and Czzah, anxious for the precious freight on his cart, reached forth his hand to steady it. This resulted in his being stricken to death, as a man who touches a live which is in the touch of the heavens

IV. The Ark of God in the House of Obed-Edom (vv. 10-12).

The homes where God is welcome are always blessed. Obed-Edom was not better personally than Uzzah and David, but he openly received the Lord and properly related himself to Him. What had been death and destruction to others was life and blessing to

V. The Ark Brought to Jerusalem

1. Sacrifices were offered after giving sixpence (v. 13).
2. David made the start and was the recipient of God's approval for making offerings. These were both burnt and peace offerings, typifying the self-dedication of the offerers and their thanksgiving (1 Chron. 16:1).
3. David's great joy (v. 14, 15).
4. The people joined him with great shouting and with the sound of the trumpet.
5. Michael's criticism (v. 16).
6. Even though David went to express in his expression of joy, it was wrong in her to criticize, for God seems to have sanctioned David's rebuke of her (v. 23).
7. The grand celebration (v. 17-19).
8. As a token of his gratitude to God David's subjects treated the people.
9. The King of the Jews, King Herod Jesus Christ, coming (Ps. 24:7-10).

This was, not the psalm composed

I Chron. 16). It is strange that even suggestion should have been made. This 2400 psalm pictures Christ as the victor and triumphant King. At that time the gates shall open to Him and the King of Glory shall come in.

God Gives Us Power

God gives us power to bear all the sorrows of His making; but He does not give the power to bear the sorrows of our own making, which the anticipation of power most assuredly is.—Lan MacLaren.

Asking

"Asking" of me" is the one appeal of the most high. It is not enough that we should be able to articulate a promise signed by the divine hand; we must plead it.—F. B. Meyer.

This image appears to be a scan of a vertical strip, possibly a book binding or a piece of paper. It features a dark, textured central band with lighter, possibly marbled or patterned, sections on either side. The image is heavily degraded with noise and artifacts, including a prominent vertical line of dark, irregular markings running down the center. The overall appearance is grainy and high-contrast, with a lot of black and white noise.
